Guidance if your child develops COVID-19 symptoms or is contacted by Test and Trace Please note we are unable to advise on individual cases and are only able to guide you according to the NHS procedure below If your child develops any of the following symptoms: Contact your GP or get advice from A high temperature NHS 111 https://111.nhs.uk/ if A new, continuous cough (this means coughing a lot, for more than an you're worried about your child or hour, or 3 or more coughing episodes in 24 hours) not sure what to do A loss or change to your sense of smell or taste Your child must NOT enter the school site. Keep them at home and Contact the school office Get a test for your child as soon as possible. Anyone your child lives with and anyone follow the 'stay at home: guidance immediately Online via https://self-referral.test-forin their support bubble must also selffor households with possible or coronavirus.service.gov.uk/antigen/name or isolate until your child has been tested confirmed coronavirus infection' call 119 if you have problems using the until they have their test result Unclear, void, borderline or Test results received inconclusive test result – your usually the next day child may need another test POSITIVE test result NEGATIVE test result Keep your child at Anyone in your If your child If your child Anyone in If after 10 days, home for at least 10 household or support still feels vour child still has feels fit and well vour days from when their bubble must self-isolate unwell. keep loss of taste / with no household or symptoms started and for 14 days from when them at symptoms they support follow guidance from smell or cough your child's symptoms home until they can return to bubble can can return to NHS Test and Trace started, unless they they feel school but NOT if stop selfschool unless regarding those your develop symptoms and better isolating if they were told they have a high child has been in test positive in which to self-isolate they have no temperature contact with case the self-isolation is for 14 days by symptoms reset to 10 days NHS Test and Trace If you are contacted by NHS Test and Trace regarding your child Contact the School Anyone your child lives with or If your child Your child must self-isolate for 14 days from the day in their support bubble does Office immediately develops symptoms they were last in contact not need to self-isolate unless follow the above your child develops symptoms with the person

Please remain in regular contact with the School in all circumstances and keep up to date with any changes in Government guidance